AN INTERESTING STORY--A HOPELESS CASE CURED--A GOOD REASON FOR HAPPINESS.

Statement of Mr. Washington Monroe, of Catskill Green County, New York.

"For many years I had suffered from a complaint which the physicians called Gravel. I had employed some of the most noted doctors without obtaining any permanent relief, and for a long time my case was regarded as hopeless. All who knew the circumstances said I must die. Finally, my wife induced me to try a bottle of Dr. Kennedy's 'Favorite Remedy' which she had somewhere heard of or seen advertised. Without the slightest faith in it, but solely to gratify her, I bought a bottle of a druggist in our village. I used that and two or three bottles more, and—to make a long story short—I am now as healthy a man as there is in the country.

Since then I have recommended "Favorite Remedy" to others whom I knew to have suffered from Kidney and Liver complaints; and, I assure the public, that the 'Favorite Remedy' has done its work with a similar completeness in every single instance, and I trust some other sick and discouraged mortal may hear of it and try the 'Favorite Remedy,' as I did." apr6 S&wlm

THE DAKOTA FLOODS.

A Thrilling Account of the Scenes in the Inundated Districts.

From files of Yankton, Dakota, papers just received we have thrilling accounts of the scenes resulting from the recent flooding of the country on both sides of the Missouri river near that city.

A large populous section of southern Dakota has been under water for a week, and the capital city, Yankton, has been partially inundated. Since the settlement of Dakota nothing of the kind has been known, and for thirty years before, the Indians tell us, no flood of such magnitude has occurred. It is generally known throughout the country that the past winter has been unexampled for severity. Immense quantities of snow have fallen and the weather was continuously cold, the snow remained until the first warm days of spring. When the break-up came it swept like an avalanche. The insignificant stream was swollen to the dimensions of a river in a single day, and hundreds of these rivers poured their volumes into the Missouri, whose surface was coated with a solid icy crust, three feet in thickness, strong enough to resist for days, and even weeks, the tremendous pressure of water which flowed beneath it, and forced it upward in one unbroken mass nearly to a level with its banks, and then the crush, the grand upheaval, came, and the Missouri was open, and then came the danger. The ice lodged, choking the channel and stopping the onward flow of the water, until bursting its banks the great volume spread out over the low bottoms, and with its resistless ice blocks, some of them acres in extent and weighing hundreds of of tons, as implements of distruction, it fairly mowed down forests of timber, submerged fences and villages by the score and hundred, battering down, crushing and sweeping from sight strong buildings, overwhelming thousands of beasts and carrying destruction and desolation wherever it reached.

Opposite Yankton, on the Nebraska side, was the town of Green Island, a pleasant thriving village. Here twenty buildings were swept away, including two churches, one hotel, stores and dwellings. In one house, which was out of water, were congregated ninety-five persons, and in another which was protected from the heavy cakes of ice by a grove of trees, were forty-two persons, who had to fly from their homes with only the clothing upon them.

In one of the houses swept away, was an old man of 70 and his daughter. As the house sank they climbed higher and higher till they reached the attic and clung to the highest part of the rafters, and thus kept their heads out of water. In this condition they floated two miles and over, finally rescued through a hole cut in the roof. Another party to the number of fifty persons found refuge among some trees, upon the limbs of which they built a platform. Afterwards they made a raft and reached a place of safety.

Above Yankton, some twenty miles, is Bon Homme Island. The country hereabouts was almost wholly inundated. On a little oasis where there was barely room for them, were ten persons, two of them ladies; and here they remained three days and nights in March, with no shelter and no food except a little flour mixed with water and baked in a cup. In this region, also, on the Nebraska side, is the town of Niabrara which was wholly inundated up to the second stories. But few houses were swept away.

Below Yankton, in the settlement known as Civil Bend, between Elk Point and the mouth of the Sioux, it was known that some four hundred people were imprisoned by the first rise. While there was a chance for their escape they were urged to leave the dangerous spot, but they one and all refused. Later the water rose and ice formed over its surface so that relief was impossible. At last accounts this isolated community was surrounded by the rising flood and the general fear was that all had perished.

The condition of things from the lower end of what is known as the Dakota bottom, beginning at Sioux city, and embracing the wide expanse of low land running up to the Yankton bluffs, a distance of 65 miles, is much the same as in the immediate vicinity of Yankton. This whole region is inundated from the bluffs on the Dakota side to the bluffs on the Nebraska side and farms are covered, and homes just peeping from the surface of the water. There is less ice at the lower end of the bottom than is visible at and below Yankton and about the mouth of Jim river, but all along the line the pitiless water reaches the bluff sides, and beneath it lie the ruined homes of thousands of thrifty people.

Included in this range of country are the towns of Gayville, Meckling, Vermillion, Elk Point, Jefferson, Burbank, McCook, etc., all of which were flooded and from which the inhabitants were hastily driven with only the clothing upon them. In Vermillion alone about fifty houses were swept away, also a large part of Elk Point and nearly the whole of Meckling, Gayville, etc.

During the height of the flood at Vermillion, a log house floated past that place down the swift current of the river, surrounded by crashing ice, and upon its roof were ten persons. They were beyond rescue from the shore, and death seemed the only termination of their fearful voyage. But the Missouri, in one of its merciful freaks, cast the house out upon the bottom below, where it lodged among the willows, then the occupants of the roof were finally taken off and placed upon dry land.

Boats, with crews from Yankton, went to all accessible points to rescue the sufferers, and hundreds of lives were thus saved, so that it is hoped the actual loss of life is small. Too much credit cannot be given the brave men who formed these rescuing parties. At one place a Capt. Lavender and crew went to old man Segard's, whom they found in his house standing in water three feet deep, while his wife and little boy were perched on a shelf or scaffold above the water. Segard, who is a man about 68 years of age, had been standing in this depth of water for three days, and when rescued his limbs were swollen to an enormous size, and his strength well nigh exhausted. This family were taken to Peter Johnson's house, just north of the lake, where the rescuers cleaned the house, put up a stove and made the family as comfortable as possible. They next went to the house of a Norwegian, where there were seven little children, the eldest not over six years old. This house was in deep water and the family had taken refuge on the roof, where they had spent three nights with no other protection from the bitter cold wind than that afforded by three blankets.

In one place an old man named Joseph Inch, was found standing in the water breast deep frozen to death. His body was cut out of the ice, and carried to the home of his brother, which was the first information he had of his fate. While a large number of persons were collected upon one of the houses at Green Island, momentarily expecting to be swept away amid the rising waters, their voices joined in the hymn "Jesus lover of my soul" and "He leadth me." Another, an aged pastor, repeated the 23d psalm, and when the rescuing boats took off their friends and neighbors, there was a general joining in that hearty doxology "Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

Capt. Noble, of Maine, one of the rescuing party at work on the Missouri bottom, says that in all his experience at sea, amid shipwreck, he never encountered as much hardship or witnessed such deprivation or suffering as came under his observation during the week.

The foregoing portrays but faintly the sufferings and extent of the flood. Thousands are destitute and must for months be objects of public charity. We are glad to know our people in Bangor are doing something for these destitute ones.

The following is a letter from an old Sioux Indian Chief, regarding the flood, and published in the Yankton paper:

YANKTON AGENCY, D. T., April 5, 1881.

It is now some eighty winters that I have seen the snows fall and melt away along this Missouri river, but I never saw a winter of such snows and floods as these. It used to be that our ponies could eat the grass on the prairie all winter; but this year it is time all our wheat was in, and we can hardly see a bare spot of ground as large as the hand yet. And though the snow is still so thick, great floods come and destroy all we have.

Long ago—forty years or more, there was a flood which overtook and killed a large number of Teton Sioux, but even then the flood was not so high as this. Here on the Yankton reservation the waters seemed to burst up from beneath, and covered the whole plain from bluff to bluff. Though the people fled to the hills and saved their lives, many lost all their property. Forty-three houses were taken away by the flood, with their stoves and other household goods; also stables, hay stacks, cattle, horses, cut logs, steamboat wood, mowers, plows and other farming utensils.

As I looked upon the women and children, struck with this great calamity, my heart was moved and I prayed thus: "God have mercy and look upon me. Look with mercy on these women and children. Give us a way, good, broad, and straight, by which they may live."

Then I looked and I saw a way; and two men were standing in it. One was the President, and the other his second (secretary of the interior). They came stretching out their hands to me. And with them there were cattle, and wagons, and plows, and reapers and mowers, and threshers, and rakes and hoes, and pitchforks, and seed-wheat and garden seeds of many kinds. I said: "If this be true these children will yet be filled and live. They will go to school and be wise and great."

I am STRIKE-THE-REE,
Head Chief of the Yankton Sioux.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Journal says: Mr. John W. Adams, of this city is suffering severely from the effects of zinc poison. While preparing an elective bath for his nickel-plating shop in Auburn, Mr. Adams inhaled the vapor from dissolving zinc, and it poisoned his lungs. He thought, at first, he had a severe cold, but the symptoms soon made evident the cause of his trouble. The poison has now settled in his right arm, which pains him continuously, and it may lead to more serious consequences.

Eva King, a bright-looking child three years old, whose parents live in Auburn, was lost, Monday forenoon, and her folks were in a state of great trepidation. The police were notified and succeeded in finding the babe in the woods. They learned the little tot was seen coming across Main street bridge, alone, about ten o'clock A. M. In the afternoon she was picked up, out in a pasture, where she was playing with the cows, a couple of miles from home. She rode home in City Marshal Smith's wagon, at 2:30 P. M.

The Argus says that Friday afternoon Mr. Frank Bailey, of Cumberland Mills, took his two dogs and went out on a little hunting expedition. He returned home leaving one of the dogs on a chase, being part hound. A short time after, the dog was seen with his own hide hanging over his hind parts, travelling in the road in a homeward direction about a mile from Saccarappa, on the Saco road. On examination it was found that the hide had been cut over the back and down the sides just back of the fore-legs, and with a hook had been pulled off to the tail and left hanging over the hind parts of the animal. A humane person put him out of his misery shooting him through the head. A person who could so treat a living creature should receive the severest penalty that could be inflicted.

Monday evening the Portland Society of Natural History, enjoyed the treat of listening to Dr. Wood's paper on the method of reparation of injuries by trees. After the discourse, a fine lot of donations were announced. The most interesting was a box full of curiosities from the venerable John Mussey, the opening number of which was simply a piece of soap made many years ago, but the last closed with a "lubricator," as he called it, consisting of his check for $300 on the Casco National Bank.

North Gray is to have a new school-house erected where the old one stands, costing some $800.

At the re-organization of the Congregational S. School at Wilton, Sunday, an unusual interest was created by the introduction of a new feature, in the presentation of a gift to the Superintendent, Mr. L. F. Abbott. During the previous two weeks, Miss Mary Bass had been busy in soliciting funds, which had been heartily responded to by nearly every member of the school. After the usual exercises of the school, and a moderator chosen, and the Superintendent had retired, Dr. J. R. Eaton was called to the platform, and presented the money, twenty dollars, in a very neat, and appropriate address, expressing the thanks of the school for the services rendered during the past five years, and the success that had attended those labors. The present being a perfect surprise to Mr. Abbott, he was very much overcome, and could only—at this time—return his sincere thanks for the present, reserving his more elaborate speech for the future. The same board of officers were elected for the ensuing year. The church is prospering, under the care of Rev. A. G. Fitz, and the Sunday school, under the care of the superintendent, and both are gaining additions. Last Sabbath afternoon was a very interesting time for the church,—two young men uniting with it on profession and one sister by letter.

The Journal says that Mr. Frank W. Cole, of Augusta, has sold his fine bay gelding "Dandy" to a Boston party, for $300. "Dandy" stands sixteen hands high and is said to be a very promising young horse. The same party purchased twelve horses in and about Skowhegan last week. They were shipped to Boston by rail Monday.——Mr. John Hussey, of Augusta, has sold his fast trotting "Knox Boy" colt, five years old, named "Johnny Knox" to a New York gentleman. Price, $400. Mr. Hussey also sold his fine grey mare called "Belle Whalebone," by Whalebone Knox, to J. C. Ham, for New York market. Price $400. He has also disposed of his span of heavy work horses to parties in Rockland for $500. These two horses aggregated 3,200 pounds in weight, and were beauties.——Mr. Wm. Richards, of Gardiner, sold his magnificient pair of black geldings to a Boston man, recently, for $1,000. The span was a splendid match, sixteen hands high, and were said to be the finest pair of gents' driving horses in the State. The party who purchased the span offered Mr. Fred Richards, of Gardiner, $1,500 for his black gelding which was sired by "Black Pilot."——Mr. M. S. Moulton, of the "Central Fish Market," has a very promising bay mare by Will Potter's "Independence." The colt is three years old. Mr. Moulton thinks well of her, and has put her in James Stevens' hands for training.

Skowhegan village redeems herself. At the corporation meeting on Monday P. M., the attendance was so large, that it became necessary to adjourn to Coburn Hall. By a vote of four to one the corporation decided to have not only a night watch, but street lamps, and made arrangements to have an investigation by a competent committee in regard to engines, water works, etc., who are to report to a meeting the 1st, of June.——A crew of men are now engaged upon the pier projecting from the south side of the river under the railroad bridge. Owing to the presence of the old bridge last fall it was impossible to complete the pier and the sidewalk connected with that bridge, which are now to be finished.

The Augusta Journal says that a preliminary meeting of the charter members of the Skowhegan and Athens railroad company, was held at Athens, Saturday. The following officers were chosen: Moderator, F. G. Greene; Clerk, pro tem., J. F. Holman; Committee on By-Laws, F. G. Greene, J. F. Holman, S. L. Tobey.

ON THE WRONG TRACK.

[From the New York Tribune.]

A story comes from Washington in regard to the pending action of the Senate on nominations which is neither easy nor pleasant to believe. It is related that a part of the Committee recently appointed by the Senate Republican caucus has waited upon the President and represented to him, in effect, that Mr. Conkling's disposition is not implacable; that he has hitherto prevented the Senate from going into executive session because his constituents were dissatisfied with the nomination of Judge Robertson for Collector of the Port of New York; that if the President would withdraw that nomination Mr. Conkling would then allow executive sessions to be held, and the rest of the nominations to be confirmed. The report further states that the Committee recommended the adoption of this course, and that the President declined to accept their recommendation.

Preposterous as this story seems at first, it comes too well authenticated to be doubted. A committee of Senators appointed to expedite public business, which has been suffering by protracted neglect and delay, can find no other or better way of getting about their task than by going to the White House and requesting the President to abdicate, for the time being, his constitutional function of making nominations to office, so far as the State of New York is concerned. The simple fact that such a proceeding is possible, proves with sufficient clearness how far the Senate has become infected with the idea that there are thirty-eight Presidents in the United States, instead of one provided by the Constitution.

The grounds upon which this singular claim is made, are as false as the claim is absurd. Mr. Conkling asserts that his opposition to executive sessions has been in deference to the wishes of his New York constituents who thought that delay would result in the withdrawal of Judge Robertson's nomination." In what way have the wishes of his constituents been ascertained? The nomination of Judge Robertson was received with universal approval in this State. The entire press spoke out in chorus in favor of it, before Mr. Conkling's views were made known, and even then very few papers had the pusillanimity to recall their words. Both branches of the State Legislature passed resolutions heartily endorsing the appointment. After all these weeks of discussion not a word in derogation of Mr. Robertson's character or fitness has been heard from any quarter. The only pretence of an argument against his confirmation is that he is not agreeable to one of our Senators, and that this particular Senator is entitled to have "his primacy recognized." This is a new term in our political language, but it defines a claim with a wide range. There have been a dozen or so important nominations made from New York by the present Administration, a large proportion of which are now before the Senate. All of these but one are agreeable to Mr. Conkling; most of them indeed, are from among his personal following. One only has been made by the President and Secretary of the Treasury which he would not have recommended, and this to an office of national dignity and interest; and the "primacy" of Mr. Conkling is so touched by this, that no executive sessions must be held until the President performs a public act of penance before the Senate and the country, which shall serve at once as a reparation of his fault and a pledge of future good conduct. The Emperor Henry, shivering in the snow at Canossa under the discipline of Pope Hildebrand, would be more than matched by the degrading spectacle which these Senators propose to make of President Garfield.

The committee are clearly on the wrong track. Their business is to go to our senior Senator, and to tell him in a spirit of love and candor that the harmony of party requires him at the first executive session to rise and propose the confirmation of Judge Robertson. He could find many good things to say of him—he could find nothing bad—and he would be doing an eminently graceful and proper thing, which would be to his credit and advantage for years to come.

A SENSATIONAL STORY EXPLODED.

A sensational story has been circulated here to-day (Tuesday) to the effect that Senator Dawes, as Chairman of the Caucus Committee, had received a letter from President Garfield relative to the difficulties between the Republican Senators and the Administration, in which the President had declared that he would heartily support the Senators in any effort to secure a disruption of the solid South, and a free ballot and a fair count, but that he could not support the dead-lock to secure the election of Mr. Gorham, editor of the Republican, who was constantly assailing the Administration, and that as to Robertson, if the Republican Senators decided that all the nominations ought to be withdrawn, he would withdraw them. The story has gained a great many believers, particularly inasmuch as it was reported that a gentleman very near to the President had seen the letter and was the authority for the statement. It can be stated on the highest possible authority that no such letter exists and that no such letter was written and received by Mr. Dawes. Mr. Dawes did receive a brief note from Gen. Garfield, written upon one sheet of note paper, containing only a few words, and none of these words related to any of the controverted points. Mr. Dawes has been beset by interviewers this evening, and to one and all he denies emphatically that any such letter has ever existed. The President had no need to write a letter upon that subject, as his views were very clearly expressed to the committee when it called upon him.—Wash. Cor. Boston Journal.

Wade Hampton's frank admission in the Senate concerning Southern frauds are not relished by the few Democratic papers that have noticed them. For instance, the Louisville Courier-Journal says: "General Hampton is too candid a man to be a member of the Senate of the United States. Since he is no longer the chief of a corps of cavalry, he ought to be the editor of an independent journal." As the editor of an independent newspaper Mr. Hampton wouldn't help either party; but as a Democrat his blurting out the truth occasionally is a great assistance to the Republicans, and they are unanimous against his making any change.

POLITICAL NOTES.

How could Barnum and Glover be so mean as to spoil all the thunder of the Democratic editors against the Star Route frauds!

This will be a good year for the Republicans to make a Southern campaign, and Virginia and Mississippi appear to be good States to begin in.

Haven't heard anything of "the Chandler murder" down this way; but when an expert like Hamburg Butler speaks of murder we concede that he ought to know what he is talking about. He doesn't, however.—Press.

The discovery of the Hon. William H. Barnum's name as bondsman under one of the most extravagant of the Star Route contractors excites emotions of profound grief wherever that pure patriot is known. He has undoubtedly been "imposed upon" again.

Chicago Tribune: Down in the hearts of the Southern whites is lurking the hope that at last and at some time in the future there will be a payment for the slaves. For this purpose there is a record kept in all the Southern States of the slaves emancipated or lost by the war, and the success of the Democratic party and the extinction of the negro voters as constituents of the politics of the country are inseparably part of every scheme for the future regeneration of the South. Twelve years have passed since the negroes have been declared constitutional citizens and voters, and yet their right to vote is repudiated in several Southern States, and is as insolently disregarded as if no such privilege had been ever extended to them.

Glover, with all his investigating, never found Glover's patent postal rope-clamp. He caught his fish-hook in the trousers of all his party friends, but managed to swing clear of Glover's. The interesting revelation is made in the Washington despatches that Mr. Glover, in spite of the statute made and provided prohibiting Congressmen to own any interest in a Government contract, obtained a share in a patent for a post office bag tie, and carefully concealed the fact until after his term as Congressman had expired. He obtained the interest in 1877 but it was not recorded until some days after March 4, 1879. History will need to revise its judgment of Mr. Glover, and admit that he was not an absolutely heedless person after all.

PERSONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Over 100,000 immigrants have arrived at New York since the first of January.

The indications are that the rush to Long Branch the coming season will be greater than ever before.

Alligator-skin boots and shoes have become so popular that 25,000 hides were consumed in their manufacture last year in this country.

A colonelcy in the Mexican Army has been offered to General Ord's son, a youth of twenty. His sister is the wife of General Trevino, who lives at the Mexican Capital.

Eastern thrift seems to have reached the Pacific coast at last, and the days when cents were unknown, and "a bit" the smallest change in use are passing away into tradition.

At Keeskemet, in Hungary, there resides a Jewish couple, Nathan Spunzer and his wife Katerine, whose united age amount to 217 years, the husband being 106 and his wife 111 years old.

Some of the leading citizens of Philadelphia have initiated a movement for the establishment of a free public library in that city. A committee has been appointed to report a plan of organization.

The library of Tufts College has received a valuable addition, consisting of 1,000 volumes from the library of the late Rev. Dr. Chapin, purchased by President Capen with funds donated for that purpose by friends of the college.

The Duchess of Marlborough has not ceased her efforts to relieve Irish distress. She has just made arrangements for the outfit of fifteen Irish families, who will be given free passage to Manitoba, and provided with farms when they arrive there.

General D. H. Strother (Porte Crayon), United States Consul General at the City of Mexico, is past sixty, and is described as being hale and cheery. During his sojourn in Mexico his pencil has not been idle, and his portfolio contains a multitude of new sketches.

The iron prow of the famous rebel ram Merrimac, which destroyed two frigates in Hampton Roads during the rebellion, but was finally routed by the Monitor, now lies rusting in an obscure junk shop in Baltimore. It affords a chance for somebody to secure a war relic cheap.

According to the census report the number of establishments engaged in the manufacture of glass in this country has increased from 154 in 1870 to 194 in 1880, and the value of their production from $18,470,507 to $21,013,464. There has been an increase of about $6,000,000 in the capital invested.

Statistics show that the liking for horse-flesh, though an acquired taste and domesticated in Paris by the hard necessity of the siege, is not disowned in the piping times of peace. The horse and the ass have become articles of every day consumption in the gay capital and their use as food is constantly increasing in extent.

During a recent visit to New York, Mrs. Garfield looked into the furniture and carpet warerooms with the view of refurnishing the White House. It has been decided to restore to the parlors the distinctive colors by which they have long been known. At present in the "Red Parlor" other colors than red predominate.

The bill compelling the removal of all screens in front of bars in liquor saloons, thus making the purchase of liquor as open to the public eye as the purchase of sugar, has passed both Houses of the Massachusetts Legislature, receiving the support not only of prohibitionists but those also who merely wish to reduce tippling to moderate limits.

Who says corporations have no souls? The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is about to contract for 50,000 plants of various kinds, to be delivered at the stations between Jersey City and Philadelphia. The purpose is to have flower beds at every station along the route. This is a delightful contribution to the pleasure of travel.

A NEW SOUND STEAMER.

PROPOSED ADDITION IN THE FALL RIVER LINE—A LARGER BOAT THAN THE BRISTOL—CASTING A HUGE CYLINDER.

A million dollar iron sidewheel steamer, with 300 staterooms and accommodations for carrying 1,000 passengers is being built by John Roach at his shipyard in Chester, Pa., and the contract calls for its completion in 1882. It will have two feet more beam or hull and four feet more on deck, over all, than the Bristol; or it will be fifteen feet longer and four feet wider on deck than that steamer. The Puritan is to be 384 feet long—370 feet long at water line—87 feet wide over guards, and 17 feet, 6 inches deep at sides. The double hull will be divided into ninety-six water-tight compartments, bearing a pressure of five pound per square inch. Steam will be supplied from four Redfield boilers and there will be one immense beam engine, having a cylinder 110 inches in diameter, with fourteen feet stroke. This cylinder was cast at Mr. Roach's Morgan Iron Works and it is said to be the largest cylinder ever cast in the country. Ninety thousand pounds of gun metal were melted in three hours and ten minutes, and at about two o'clock a dozen monster ladles, each containing two or three hogsheads of molten metal, blazing like a melted star, were swung into position around the mould. At last, when all was ready, the word was given, two stationary tanks were tapped, then the ladles were tilted over and for ten minutes there was a striking picture of Vulcan and his men at work in bowels of a volcano. Half a hundred steaming, moving figures seemed lost in a shower of sparks and flame. The molten metal roared like a wild beast; the glare was so great that the building seemed on fire, and the spectators retreated before the fearful heat. In the midst of the apparent confusion the silk hat of the venerable John Roach was seen above the sparks and smoke while he moved about giving directions to the various workmen around the pit of fire. Flames of twenty colors burst from the openings in the mould, but in a few moments they died away, and the great cylinder began its two days' task of trying to get cool. The two main shafts for this engine will be forty feet long and twenty-seven inches in diameter, forged from wrought iron, and each will weigh 35,000 pounds.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

Special Session of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 4.

The Senate has gone into Executive session.

The motion was made by Mr. Dawes, who in making it repudiated the idea that by so doing he and his associates were giving up the fight over the Senate offices, which he considered in its scope and character as presenting a question of great importance to the future welfare of the government, involving as it did the right of the majority to rule.

The vote to go into Executive session stood yeas 33, nays none.

In Executive session the Senate confirmed the following: Robert R. Hill, of Illinois, to be Assistant Secretary of State; Hiram Price, of Iowa, Commissioner of Indian Affairs; Alfred M. Jones, U. S. Marshal for the Northern district of Illinois; Sanford A. Hudson, of Wisconsin, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Dakota; Joseph O. Jones, Postmaster at Terre Haute, Indiana. The foregoing were all confirmed by unanimous consent. The other nominations on the table were referred to appropriate committees.

The Senate then took up the Chinese treaty which at 3 o'clock was under discussion.

On the Chinese immigration treaty a discussion ensued in which Mr. Miller of California and Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts were the principal participants, the former advocating the ratification of the treaty, upon the ground of its placing the subject of Chinese immigration within our entire control hereafter, the latter opposing it with the argument that the underlying purpose of the treaty is contrary to the genius of our institutions and the general doctrine of "the brotherhood of man."

Shortly before adjournment the Senate laid aside the treaty as unfinished business for to-morrow.

The Senate confirmed the nomination of Wm. T. Osborne as Postmaster of Pittsfield, Mass.

CALIFORNIA.

The Chinese Treaty.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4. At a mass meeting in the opera house, Tuesday night, of Republicans, resolutions were adopted condemning the Asiatic emigration as the cause of all disorder, and urging Senators to affirm the treaty with China without delay, and to press its ratification.

MARYLAND.

A Foolish Move.

BALTIMORE, May 4. Rev. Henry Ward Beecher while returning from Washington this morning was arrested on the arrival of the train here, at the instance of the officers of the Western Maryland Agricultural Society, for not delivering the annual address at Cumberland two years ago, as it is alleged he contracted to do. Beecher took the matter good humoredly and said that he would answer through counsel.

TEXAS.

Killed by a Railroad Accident.

DALLAS, May 4. A freight train on the Pacific road went through a bridge, Tuesday, killing engineer Sanders and fireman Dooley and wounding conductor Hooner and a brakeman. In another wreck at Katula, on the same road, engineer Johns and a brakeman are reported killed and J. E. Henderson, of Dallas, a telegraph line contractor, injured.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Two Men Killed by a Falling Building.

LITTLETON, May 4. An accident occurred at the Bethlehem this afternoon. One of the buildings connected with the Maplewood Hotel property had been raised for the purpose of building another story under it. It was supported by blocking and a gang of men was employed about the building, when a strong wind cause it to fall, killing Morris Cheney and Daniel Abbott, of Bethlehem, and severely injuring seven others.

RHODE ISLAND.

Railroad Sale.

PROVIDENCE, May 4. A controlling interest in the Rhode Island and Massachusetts railroad in this State, was sold to-day to Messrs. Ray, of Franklin, who were the owners of the Massachusetts end of the road.

THE STAR ROUTE SCANDAL.

The Ring Attempting Intimidation.

Flinging Mud at the President.

"HE WON'T SCARE WORTH A CENT."

But Will "Hunt the Rascals Down."

CHICAGO, May 4. The Times has a telegram from Washington saying that during the campaign of last summer when the Republican cause seemed desperate an attempt was made to induce Gen. Brady to secure liberal contributions from his friends of the Star Route ring. Brady refused to act unless invited to do so by the candidate for President himself.

Chairman Hubbell wrote to Garfield explaining the situation and the following letter was received in response:

MENTOR, O., August 23, 1880.

My Dear Hubbell:

Yours of the 19th inst. received and contents noted. Please say to Brady I hope he will give us all the assistance possible. I think he can help effectually. Please tell me how the departments generally are doing.

As ever yours,
(Signed) J. A. GARFIELD.

To Hon. J. A. Hubbell, Washington, D. C.

The letter which is entirely in the President's handwriting is in the possession of a gentleman at Washington who says he will produce it at the proper time.

WASHINGTON, May 4. The President's attention having been called to the letter (published this morning) alleged to have been written by him to J. A. Hubbell from Mentor last August, in which he says "Please say to Brady that I hope he will give us all assistance possible," stated that there was not a line in the letter that he would have the slightest objection to giving to the public, that Star Route contractors were neither mentioned nor thought of; that it was simply the expression of hope that Brady, a citizen of Indiana, who was reputed to have made an immense fortune in "Bell Telephone stock," would respond from his ample means in aid of his party in the life and death struggle then going on in his own State.

WASHINGTON.

Invitation Declined.

WASHINGTON, May 4. The President to-day declined the invitation by the Yorktown Centennial Commission for a trip to Yorktown to-morrow, as the Senate had now resumed the transaction of Executive business, and he did not feel at liberty to leave Washington at present.

Court Matters.

U. S. Judges Benedict and Blatchford have decided an appeal in a case which allows the U. S. District Attorney to bring culprits before a U. S. court upon an "information." Heretofore such cases as passing counterfeit money have been submitted to the grand jury, but this decision obviates this trouble and expense.

National College for Mutes.

The annual presentation exercises of the National Deaf Mute College took place at the college to-day. President Garfield, ex-Speaker Randall, Sec'y Hunt, Professor Newcomb and a number of other public men were present. The President and Speaker Randall delivered short addresses which were interpreted by the Superintendent.

Society of Engineers.

Papers were read by President Thurston and A. R. Wolff of New York. The session continues to-morrow and Friday. There is a large attendance.

NEW YORK.

A New Bridge.

NEW YORK, May 3. Work on the New York and Long Is and bridge, which is to be built across the East River at Blackwell's Island, will begin this week. The cofferdam for the piers at Ravenswood is now ready at the dock and will be put in place and sunk as soon as workmen can be persuaded to go into the water. The span from Ravenswood to Blackwell's Island will be 618 feet; that across the island 700 feet, and the one reaching to the New York side 734 feet. The whole cost of the bridge, lighted by electricity, crossed by a double track for steam cars, and connected on both sides with the railroads, will be no more, it is claimed, than $5,000,000. Of this sum nearly one-half has already been subscribed, and a large amount of the stock will be taken in London. It is proposed to complete the bridge in three years.

Escaped From Chilian Captivity.

Paul Boyton escaped from the captivity of the Chilians and arrived here last night. He thinks there is a possibility of his return to Peru as Pierola has not yet given up the fight.

National Agricultural Fair.

At a meeting of the directors of the Ann Agricultural Association to-day a plan for a national agricultural fair to be held in this vicinity, next October, was referred to a committee who will immediately consider it and report at a special meeting hereafter. Twelve States were represented. President Garfield says he will contribute to the success of the exhibition.

Sundry Items.

About three-quarters of the striking bakers have gone to work their demands being complied with. The bosses say that they have more applicants than they need.

AUBURN, May 4. The appointment of a negro policeman has caused the chief and one officer to resign. More trouble is anticipated.

Loss of the Steamer City of Austin.

The remaining passengers of the lost steamer City of Austin have arrived here. It appears that the steamer was lost by the incompetency of the pilot, who turned out to have been dismissed from the service for incompetency. Only 88 hogsheads of sugar and some fruit were saved.

Still Without a Police Force.

TROY, May 4. The Police Commissioners met again to-night and took eleven ballots, making 150 in all, without electing a Superintendent. The Board adjourned one week, leaving the city without a police force. The windows of stores in South Troy have been smashed with stones by a gang of young roughs, and several fights and assaults have taken place, but nothing like a general disturbance. Vigilance committees will be organized in South Troy if depredations continue.

Land League Meeting.

BROOKLYN, May 4. The Parnell Land League, to-night, was addressed by J. J. O'Donnell, who is charged with complicity in the Mansion House plot. He said the Irish people were not in a mood to be trifled with, and if the English Parliament did not pass a good bill and the evictions continued, there would be a wholesale shooting of landlords and policemen. The people had threatened the use of combustibles and if they saw no other remedy they would carry out the threat. The time was coming when they would no longer rent acres but take acres from the landlords who should never have held them.

LOUISIANA.

A Petition that Ought to be Granted.

SHREVEPORT, May 4. The motion for a new trial in the case of Thomas, convicted for manslaughter for killing his brother-in-law, Hugh Dickson, for seducing his daughter, was withdrawn to-day and the prisoner sentenced to one hour's imprisonment in the penitentiary, and to pay one dollar fine and costs. Petitions signed by the Judge, jury and nearly every citizen were forwarded to the Governor for his immediate pardon.

THE FLOODS.

THE SITUATION MORE CRITICAL AT ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, May 4. The situation in St. Louis from the floods grows more critical. Families and merchants are moving. Several railroads have taken their movable stock and property from their yards on the Island, and some decline to receive any more freight for shipment at present. In fact the yards on the Island are in such danger of inundation that they will have to be abandoned. The Cairo and St. Louis narrow gauge road is submerged in many places and has suspended operations. The trestle of the Cairo Short Line, leading to the Island south of the bridge, is abandoned and the roads have to reach the freight yards by another track.

Second Despatch.

ST. LOUIS, May 4. The situation in East St. Louis is becoming more and more critical. A break is already reported in the Ohio & Mississippi Railroad embankment, about a mile north of the relay depot, and the Vandalia track is flooded for some distance. Many people have already left East St. Louis, and others have moved themselves and their household effects to the upper stories of their dwellings. Some of the merchants are moving their goods to this city, while others are piling them up on high shelves or storing them on the second floor.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Sad Loss of Life.

LONDON, May 4. The victims of the British sloop of war Doterel explosion number 8 officers and 135 men killed; 3 officers and 14 others were saved.

Later advices from Montevideo state that the British sloop Doterel was blown up in the straits of Magellan on the 29th ult., totally destroyed and sunk. The explosion occurred in the forward magazine at 10 o'clock in the morning. It is supposed that the boiler burst and exploded the magazine.

The War with the Kroumirs.

LA CALLE, May 4. Gen. Logerot's division after a rapid march and turning movement succeeded in pacifying all the country through which he passed, and Tuesday reached the mountain stronghold of the Kroumirs, on the side opposite to that which was attacked by Gen. Delbecque.

The enemy were encamped in the plain of Dalka. General Logerot ordered his troops to advance and a cavalry engagement took place. The French squadrons made a brilliant charge killing 400 of the enemy and capturing a quantity of booty. The French loss was insignificant. M. Allegro, a renegade Tunisian consul, declared that he distinctly saw a number of Tunisian regulars fighting in the Kroumir ranks under command of their own officers.

KEEFCHEBRAGA, May 4. The French camp on this peak, which is in the middle of the Kroumir country, has been evacuated. The column thence has united with two other columns of Gen. Delebecque's division at Djebarbo. This movement is thought to be preliminary to an advance further into Tunis.

The Beaconsfield Memorial.

LONDON, May 4. It is understood that the opponents of the Beaconsfield memorial have represented to Gladstone that a vote on the measure ought to be postponed until after the second reading of the land bill. Debate on the land bill is likely to continue throughout next week. Some Conservatives believe that a postponement of the memorial question is desired in order to give an opportunity to radical constituencies to demonstrate against it. The conservative prints declare that Gladstone is opposed to the memorial, and that the motion for the erection of the memorial was introduced at the wish of the Queen. It is officially known that the Queen expressed such a wish.

Brief Notes.

LONDON, May 4. The Times says that the continued weakness in Russian bonds is now traceable apparently to the more permanent effects of the Czar's murder and the serious fears of a revolution in Russia which are now entertained.

TUNIS, May 4. Several Sheikhs who have been preaching a holy war have been arrested and brought to Tunis. The Bey has returned to Bardo palace believing that he is unsafe in his ordinary residence.

LONDON, May 4. Manifestos of the National Land League of Great Britain, touching Dillon's arrest, have been issued signed by Justin McCarthy. It urges the Irishmen of Great Britain to evict landlords as they themselves have been evicted and wreak vengeance at the polls on the apostates from liberalism who they helped raise to power.

LONDON, May 4. Lowell, United States Minister to England, presided at the dinner of the Literary Fund to-night. One hundred and fifty guests were present, including Lord Derby, Lord Colebridge and Viscount Enfield.

The Chronicle's Tunis correspondent announces that the French have occupied Beja.

DURBAN, May 4. The news from Transvaal is disquieting. Gen. Wood has everything ready for any emergency. A large meeting of Boers has been held at Pretoria whereat the speakers expressed the most extreme views relative to the terms of ultimate settlement.

ILLINOIS.

The Switchmen's Strike Causing Serious Trouble.

CHICAGO, May 4. The situation of the switchmen's strike is unchanged, but the consequent interruption to transportation is becoming serious. The Michigan Central has only moved 35 cars of freight since the strike began, where its average has been 140 per day. The other roads have had about the same experience.

The railroad companies are only trying to move perishable freight. Not a carload of grain was moved over the Eastern roads to-day. The engineers and firemen of all the roads are threatening to strike for an advance of 25 cents per day. One cause of the dissatisfaction is that since the switchmens strike their pay has been docked during their compulsory idleness.

The employes of the rolling mills threaten to strike for an advance of 25 cents a day.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., May 5—(1 A. M.)

Indications.

For New England: Warmer, fair weather; southerly winds; lower barometer.

[Special Weather Bulletin.]

WASHINGTON, May 5—1 A. M. The area of high barometer includes the Middle Atlantic States, New England and St. Lawrence Valley. The temperature has fallen slightly in the South Atlantic States, and elsewhere it has risen slightly. Southerly winds continue in New England and the Middle Atlantic States; elsewhere east of the Mississippi River, the prevailing winds are easterly.

The Missouri has fallen 11 inches at Omaha; 30 at Leavenworth; 17 at Lexington—at the latter two stations it is now below the danger line; 6 inches above the danger line and falling rapidly at Kansas City; 3 feet 5 above and falling at Brunswick; 3 feet 7 above and rising slowly at Hermann.

The Mississippi has fallen 11 inches at St. Paul, where it is now one foot 3 above the danger line; has risen 18 inches at St. Louis, where it is now 4 feet 4 above; 2 feet 3 at Cairo; 9 inches above at Memphis; 3 feet 4 above at Helena; 1 foot 5 above at Vicksburg and 4 inches below at New Orleans.

The indications are that the storm now central in Minnesota will move eastward over the Lakes causing rain in the Northwest Lake Region, Ohio Valley and Tennessee to-day, and in the New England and Middle Atlantic States to-morrow. The Missouri will probably continue to fall above Jefferson City. The Mississippi will probably continue to fall at St. Paul and to rise at St. Louis and Cairo.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Quite a Serious Conflagration.

BOSTON, May 4. Fire to-night in a seven story brick building, 409 to 418 Atlantic Avenue, destroyed a considerable amount of property. Several firms occupied the building, which was owned by E. & F. The owners, Nash, Spaulding & Co., are fully insured.

The first floor was occupied by M. A. Ring & Sons, paper ware rooms, and the contents were damaged about $10,000; insured for $7000. ## THE EPISCOPAL FAIR

Successfully Opened at City Hall.

The fair under the auspices of the St. John's Episcopal Socity was very successfully opened at City Hall, yesterday afternoon, and the ladies have every reason to feel encouraged by the liberal manner in which our citizens have patronized their efforts. The hall certainly presents a most artistic and attractive appearance with its unique booths, beautiful fancy articles and the bevy of handsome ladies who are in attendance.

On entering the door the attention of the visitor is at once directed to the handsome booth in the centre of the lower part of the hall, where fancy articles of all descriptions are offered for sale. Many of these articles are very beautiful and were greatly admired by those present last evening. This booth is in charge of Mrs. George Moody, Mrs. Joseph S. Smith, Mrs. Frank Leavitt and Miss Williamson. At the upper end of the hall, near the stage, is another booth which is devoted to the sale of exquisite bouquets and choice candies. This booth was so liberally patronized, yesterday, that all the flowers were gone at an early hour in the evening, but a fresh assortment has been engaged for today and the ladies hope to be equally as successful in their sales. The ladies in charge here are Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Dillingham, Mrs. Prescott, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Tillson and Miss Davis, together with a corps of young misses as outside assistants.

A large portion of the stage is used as an ice cream booth, under the direction of Miss Fanny Fiske and Mrs. A. F. Thayer. The front of the stage is enclosed by "snow-clad" trees giving the booth an arctic appearance, in perfect keeping with the cooling refreshments that are on sale here. On the left of the stage is a neat booth containing a fish pond in charge of Mrs. Mudgett, where you can try your luck with the line by the payment of a small fee.

Near the head of the hall on the right hand side is a booth that will interest all the children, as it contains a doll's table in charge of Mrs. A. C. Hamlin, Miss Hamlin, Miss Snell and several little misses. In the centre of the hall, directly in front of the stage, will be found two "Rebecca's at the Well"—Miss DeSachet and Miss Reynolds—who will be glad to supply the thirsty traveler with a refreshing draught. A few steps further on and one comes to the Art booth, which is one of the most attractive spots in the hall. Among the numerous beautiful articles that our reporter noticed during his hasty visit at this booth, were several contributions from Mr. Fred Shaw, of Portland, who has already earned a most enviable reputation as a sculptor, an elegant toilet set and a unique work box, painted in a most artistic manner. This booth is in charge of Mrs. Edward Stetson, Mrs. Jones, Miss Merrill, Miss Williamson and Miss Clark.

The refreshment tables are conveniently arranged under the galleries and were liberally patronized last evening, every one speaking in the highest terms of the refreshments charmingly served by a corps of young ladies. The fair will continue through this evening, and all should visit the hall between the hours of six and eight o'clock when they can secure an excellent supper at a trifling expense.

April (Civil) Term.

HON. JOHN APPLETON, Justice Presiding.
RUEL SMITH, Esq., Clerk.
WOODBURY PULSIFER, Esq., Sten.

Wednesday, May 4.

In the case of George Stetson et al., appellants, vs. City of Bangor, there was a stay of proceedings to allow City Solicitor Vose to go to Calais. On his return some more evidence will be got out, and then the case will be made law and report.

ON TRIAL.

Lorin A. Davis vs. Leonard Whitehouse. The plaintiff, residing in Exeter, brings this action to recover of the defendant, who resides in Wellington, on a promissory note of $126.00 which, it is alleged, the defendant made on the 10th day of October, 1878, payable to his own order, in six months after date, and afterwards endorsed the same and delivered to H. B. Mitchell, and said Mitchell transferred to the plaintiff. The transaction grew out of a purchase of the right to sell certain patent pruning shears. The defendant denies that he signed the note; but admits that he agreed with Mitchell to become his agent for the sale of the shears and signed certain papers other than this note.

Davis & Bailey. Crosby.

IT IS KNOWN that a large number of sufferers have been cured of Kidney troubles, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Gravel, Diabetes, &c., by the use of "NEPHRETICUM," the famous DR. THE HUMAN HAIR,
HOW TO PRESERVE AND BEAUTIFY IT.
Many persons abuse this delicate and beautiful ornament by burning it with alcoholic washes and plastering it with grease, which has no affinity for the skin, and is not absorbed. BURNETT'S COCOAINE, a compound of Cocoanut oil, etc., is unrivalled as a dressing for the hair—is readily absorbed, and is peculiarly adapted to its various conditions, preventing its falling off and promoting its healthy growth.
Housekeepers should insist upon obtaining BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS, for they are the best. TuTS&w4wapr21

European plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse cars, stages and elevated railroad to all depots. GRATEFUL WOMEN.
None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women. It is the only remedy peculiarly adapted to the many ills the sex is almost universally subject to. Chills and fever, indigestion or deranged liver, constant or periodical sick headaches, weakness in the back or kidneys, pain in the shoulders and different parts of the body, a feeling of lassitude and despondency, are all readily removed by these Bitters.—Courant.

THE COST OF IT.
If the total cost of sickness simply in its business aspects were reckoned up, it would be found to be great enough in five years to pay the national debt. The merchant has a headache, from a fit of indigestion, and misses a good bargain. The lawyer does the same with a case. To say nothing about doctors' fees, etc., it don't pay to be even a little sick. Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is a friend of the business man, for it clears his brain. PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY.
Issue of $10,000,000
In 4 1-2 per cent. Forty Year
FIRST MORTGAGE GOLD BONDS.
Under the Absolute Guarantee of the PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY.
Coupon or Registered, free from National and State Taxes.

The Pennsylvania Company is a corporation chartered in 1870 for the purpose of operating, managing and developing the railways west of Pittsburg controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.
To provide means for the acquirement of additional property and the further development of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's system, the Pennsylvania Company has decided to create a First Mortgage to secure Bonds to the amount of $20,000,000 of which the present issue forms a part, bearing interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum, payable January 1 and July 1, the principal maturing in 1921, and both principal and interest payable in Gold, in the city of New York, free from National and State Taxes.
The bonds are issued in denominations of $1,000 each, and EVERY BOND HAS INDORSED THEREON THE ABSOLUTE GUARANTEE OF THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY FOR PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST.
The total authorized issue is further secured by mortgage as a first charge upon—
1st. The leases for 999 years, held by the Pennsylvania Company, of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, the Cleveland and Pittsburg, and the Erie and the Pittsburg Railways. THESE LEASES ALONE have for the twelve years from their date to December 31, 1880, yielded an average yearly net profit to the Pennsylvania Company exceeding one million dollars, which sum is more than double the entire annual interest on the $10,000,000 Bonds at present to be issued.
2d. The company's valuable real estate in the cities of Pittsburg, Allegheny and Chicago, and stocks and bonds in its treasury, to the par value of about $21,000,000, being mainly securities of lines forming part of the Pennsylvania system.
The company further agrees (the performance of which agreement is likewise guaranteed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company) to purchase in every year in which bonds of this issue are offered at a price not above par, bonds equal to 1 per cent. on the then outstanding issue of said bonds, and the annual interest upon such bonds as shall have been before that time purchased, with said fund—a provision which should at all times protect the price of the bonds against any material decline below the issue price.
The Pennsylvania Company has no other debts except $2,901,000 in debentures, secured by a deposit of $4,000,000 of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway stock (part of the securities enumerated above), and its bonded debt cannot under the law be increased beyond the amount of its full paid capital stock, which at present is $20,000,000, exclusively owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.
The railways operated directly or indirectly by the Pennsylvania Company comprise a system of 3,364 miles, and the NET EARNINGS of that company for the year 1880, after the payment of all fixed charges, amounted to $3,071,396 85
Those of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company on its lines east of Pittsburg, after payment of all fixed charges to 7,638,569 01
TOTAL NET REVENUE FOR 1880 $10,709,965 86
WHILE ONLY $1,100,000 will be required to meet the interest and sinking fund, WHEN THE WHOLE OF THE $20,000,000 BONDS ARE ISSUED.
Provision has been made to have Coupon Bonds registered in the owner's name when desired, and also for their conversion into absolute Registered Bonds, interest payable to the registered owner only.
WILLIAM THAW,
Vice President Pennsylvania Company.
Approved:
G. B. ROBERTS,
President Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window,) when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $22.20 per thousand.
